

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 595

By Briggs

A RESOLUTION to honor the memory and legacy of Dr. John Hayne McLeod, former Dean of Agriculture at the University of Tennessee, and to commend the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture for naming its Food Science Building in his honor.

WHEREAS, Dr. John Hayne McLeod was born on January 26, 1887, in Athens, Texas, and devoted his life to advancing agriculture, education, and public service; and

WHEREAS, Dr. McLeod earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Animal Husbandry from Texas A&M University in 1908 and his Master of Science degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1912, establishing a strong academic foundation for a distinguished career in agricultural leadership; and

WHEREAS, after serving as Head of the Extension Livestock Department at the University of Arkansas, Dr. McLeod joined the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service in 1921 as a swine specialist, beginning a remarkable thirty-six-year career of service to the people of Tennessee; and

WHEREAS, during his tenure at the University of Tennessee, Dr. McLeod held numerous key leadership roles, including Vice Director, Acting Director, and Director of both the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service, and served with distinction as Dean of Agriculture from 1948 to 1957; and

WHEREAS, Dr. McLeod played a pivotal role in establishing the cooperative Extension–TVA Test Demonstration Program in the 1930s, and his expertise in agricultural economics and program planning earned him widespread recognition and respect throughout the State and beyond; and

WHEREAS, because of Dr. McLeod's extraordinary service and lasting impact, the University of Tennessee bestowed upon him the honor of Dean Emeritus upon his retirement; and

WHEREAS, following his retirement, Dr. McLeod continued his lifelong mission of agricultural advancement by serving four years in the University of Tennessee's agricultural program in India, where he successfully helped farmers increase rice production and improve food security; and

WHEREAS, Dr. McLeod passed away on August 18, 1977, in Knoxville, leaving behind a legacy of leadership, innovation, and unwavering commitment to the agricultural community of this State; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of his enduring influence on the University of Tennessee and agriculture across Tennessee, the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture has officially named its Food Science Building the "John H. McLeod Food Science Building," ensuring that future generations will remember and be inspired by his contributions; and

WHEREAS, Dr. McLeod's life exemplified the highest ideals of public service, educational leadership, and dedication to improving the lives of Tennesseans through sound agricultural policy, research, education, and outreach; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE ONE HUNDRED FOURTEENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING, that we honor the memory and legacy of Dr. John Hayne McLeod, commend his extraordinary service to the University of Tennessee and the State of Tennessee, and congratulate the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture on naming its Food Science Building in his honor.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that enrolled copies of this resolution be transmitted to the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture and to the family of Dr. John Hayne McLeod as a proper expression of the esteem and respect of the members of this General Assembly.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that appropriate copies of this resolution be prepared for presentation with this final clause omitted from such copy and upon proper request made to the appropriate clerk, the language appearing immediately following the State seal appear without House or Senate designation.
