WHEREAS, the State of Tennessee is blessed with dedicated law enforcement officers who risk their personal safety, even their lives, to protect and serve their communities; and

WHEREAS, one such group is the Mt. Juliet Police Department, whose new headquarters opened for public use on November 24, 2025; and

WHEREAS, located adjacent to Charlie Daniels Park, the new police headquarters is a $34 million, 54,000-square-foot edifice that will provide more space to accommodate the department's growth and be more fortified for emergencies; and

WHEREAS, the department now houses their emergency response team in the building along with the return of their investigation unit, which had not been in the same building for the previous six years; and

WHEREAS, the process of transitioning to the new headquarters came in two phases. Phase one of moving to the new headquarters included relocating administration, patrol, investigations, and records departments; phase two involved dispatch and emergency communications; and
