by deleting all language after the enacting clause and substituting instead:

SECTION 1.

(a) The Tennessee advisory commission on intergovernmental relations (TACIR) shall conduct a study and prepare a report on recommendations regarding the qualifications for assessors of property and whether a board could be created to review and certify the qualifications of candidates for assessors of property.

(b) The study and report must examine the current qualifications for assessors of property, the qualifications of assessors of property in surrounding states, the minimum experience and education required to ensure the successful completion of the duties of an assessor of property, the legality and efficacy of creating an assessor of property certification board, and any other topics related to assessors of property TACIR finds relevant.

(c) All appropriate state departments and agencies shall provide assistance to TACIR in connection with the study required by subsection (a).

(d) On or before January 15, 2027, TACIR shall report its findings and recommendations, including any proposed legislation, to the chair of the committee of the house of representatives having jurisdiction over local government matters, the chair of the state and local government committee of the senate, and the legislative librarian.

(e) It is the legislative intent that this study must be conducted from TACIR's existing resources.

SECTION 2. This act takes effect upon becoming a law, the public welfare requiring it.
